

ERP-System

SAP is used as the Enterprise-Resource-Planning (ERP) System at the Jade University.

SAP in the University Administration

In 2009, the Jade University joined the Niedersächsisches Hochschulkompetenzzentrum für SAP (CCC Hannover) (ENG: „Lower-Saxon University-Competence-Centre for SAP“). The tasks of the SAP CCC include a qualified professional and technical support desk for the used SAP-applications, an internal marketing and information management, as well as the contract administration and the coordination of development applications for the SAP AG, respectively the German-speaking SAP-user group (DSAG).

SAP in Research and Teaching

In the field of research and teaching, the Jade University takes part in the programme University Alliances SAP (UCC Magdeburg): Education is the key to innovation and social future developments. This is why SAP funds and supports educational programmes for many years now. In doing so, the company uses its expertise in science and technology, in order to get involved effectively in the society. With their University Alliances (UA) programme, SAP supports a practical and future-oriented training by providing world-wide access to the newest SAP-technologies for teachers and students. The programme is aimed at universities, as well as professional schools, which want to actively integrate SAP-software into their teaching.
