

Time Recording

Working hours of certain groups of staff at the Jade University are recorded with aid of the product "Prime WebSystems" by the company Primion Technology AG.

If you have content-related questions about your time recording account, please contact your responsible staff member of the human resources department.

If you have technical questions, write an e-mail to the university computing centre.

Prime WebSystems

The time recording system of the Jade University can be found under <https://primion.jade-hs.de/primeweb/>. You can log into the website of the time recording system with a username and password. The login details are sent to you via e-mail after set-up. If you do not know your login details, please approach your responsible staff member of the human resources department with your concern. In case you terminally locked yourself from accessing the system due to multiple incorrect entries, please write an e-mail to the university computing centre.
