

Activation

You must first activate your user account in order to be able to use it to log on to the IT systems of Jade University. With the help of the information username and initial password found on the access data sheet, you set a personal password which activates the user account.

The activation of the user account is done here: elidentity Portal - Activate Account

After activation, you can then log in to the IT systems login
